ALLIES IN FURIOUS DRIVE AT MT. ETNA

ITALY'S FLEET MAY FALL TO ALLIED HANDS

Hapless Ships Expected To Join Invasion Forces or To Be Captured.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—There is almost unanimous opinion in naval circles here that the allies can count with reasonable certainty on capturing or destroying the major portion of Italy's battleship fleet, possibly soon.

This would be more than bad news for Tokyo's admirals. The Mediterranean and the Pacific are not separated for all practical purposes in this global war.

What becomes of the Italian fleet is of utmost interest to military and naval authorities here because of the effect it is bound to have on the war against Japan.

Look Ahead to Burma

The final crushing of Italy, if it entails the surrender of the axis Mediterranean naval force, will facilitate greatly the organization of amphibious forces for an attack on Burma this fall. Once allied operations in the Mediterranean are secure from the threat of enemy attack, warships could be shifted to the Burma theater immediately.

These ships have been held in the Mediterranean against the possibility that the Italians might reverse their "fleet-in-being" strategy and send their warships against allied convoys or landing forces. Battered and disorganized though the Italian navy is, some of its remaining units might do considerable damage if they fell upon supply ships or transports inadequately protected.

At present the Italians should be able to muster about half a dozen battleships, somewhat less than a dozen cruisers, a maximum of 100 destroyers of which about half are corvette types, and some 70 submarines.

The vessels in service, plus several cruisers in various stages of damage, were mostly based on Spezia and Taranto when the present allied offensive against Italy began. Spezia is on the northwest Italian coast, opposite Corsica, and Taranto is in the instep of the boot.

Report Units Moved

There have been reports from neutral countries that the naval units at Taranto were moved into the Adriatic. If that is true, the Germans might have a chance of gaining control of them should Italy surrender.

On the other hand there is little likelihood that the units based on Spezia would fall under German domination with allied naval and airpower in the Tyrrhenian sea as great as it is.

An attack on Burma this fall, when the monsoon season ends, is the allies' only hope of reopening the Burma road to China in time for organizing a China-based offensive against Japan next year. If heavy bombing of Japan is to be undertaken from China it can be sustained only with supplies moved in through Burma.

YANKS REACH MUNDA'S EDGE

Bloody Fighting Marks Slow Advance Against Well-Entrenched Japs.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 4 — United States infantrymen have hacked their way out of the jungle through nests of fierce-fighting Japanese to the eastern edge of the Munda air strip but the main enemy defense line and much bloody battling still lie ahead. The air strip runs east and west.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in announcing today the slowly continuing envelopment of that key enemy base on New Georgia island in the central Solomons, emphasized that the Japanese resistance was stiffening rather than crumbling despite the poundings the defenders have taken from the air, sea and land for more than a month.

Japs Dug In

The Japanese are dug in, manning machine guns in coral caves and log bunkers, from Kekele village on the waterfront to the foot of Bibolo hill, in that sector where the Americans stand nearest their objective, after advances along the coast.

The whole jungle battle line continues to inch ahead.

The big news from the western hinge of the Pacific offensive, where Australian and American jungle fighters are within artillery shelling distance of Salamaua, New Guinea, was the aerial destruction within the past 10 days of nearly 200 Japanese barges.

29 Barges Wrecked

Twenty-nine of these barges, some exploding so violently as to indicate they carried ammunition, were wrecked yesterday near Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and Finschhafen, New Guinea.

Today's comunique said that the barges destroyed within the past 10 days included many of the large troop-carrying type and the loss of life must have been considerable.

Bombs May Do in 1943 What Naval Blockade Did in 1918

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The way things look now in the European laboratory of war, the Allied bombing of Germany and occupied territory may be the agent which will precipitate victory.

This isn't to say that victory depends solely on air-power, for many elements are contributing to the axis downfall which surely and steadily is approaching. Still, the aerial bombardment is having a terrific and perhaps decisive effect on the Germans.

Dispatches to Swiss and Swedish newspapers from their correspondents give a composite picture of a Germany which is enduring such terrors that "nobody knows how long the population will be able to endure it." The undreamed of striking-power being shown by the allied air navies has convinced the reich that a new phase of the war has been opened.

Recalls 1918 Hardships

One Stockholm dispatch describes the bombing as having an effect similar to that of the allied naval blockade in 1918, when the morale of the German people cracked because of hunger and other privations. That's an intensely interesting statement, especially since the fatherland of the last war collapsed without enduring the horrors of bombardment. The weight of trouble which caused the people to quit in 1918 isn't a speck on the moon to what they shortly will be getting from the cumulative effect of allied bombing.

The bombardment serves the double purpose of destroying war resources and of so disrupting communications as to put many parts of the country on short rations. Thus it's a much more devastating weapon than the naval blockade.

It's only so far back as May 19 that British Premier Churchill announced to a joint session of the senate and house in Washington that the allies were about to undertake the historic experiment of trying to bomb Germany and Italy into impotency. That's less than three months ago—a very short time to show big results in such a vast undertaking, which must depend on cumulative destruction.

Blaze Trail in Sicily

Since then allied bombers have blazed the trail for a Sicilian invasion which is forging to success. If Marshal Badoglio persists in his suicidal resistance, it's not unlikely that bombing will force the collapse of the Italian mainland even before the allies invade it.

We have only now arrived at the time when we might expect a yell from the Boche if the experiment was going well. We finally have drawn that yell by a steady destruction of industries, supply centers, submarine, and shipping bases, and communications by rail and highway. Resistance by the Nazi airforce has decreased as our devastation has multiplied.

The allied bombing operations have been aimed at military strangulation but obviously the civilian population has had to suffer. The casualty roll in many cities has been heavy, but it has remained for the wholesale assault on the great port of Hamburg to make Germany realize the awfulness of the steadily growing power which has been unleashed.

Toll in Hamburg

One Danish consular official is quoted in Copenhagen as estimating that 200,000 people have been killed in Hamburg. It would be well to accept that figure with reserve, but the police of the ruined city are said to place the killed, wounded and missing at 30,500.

The continued assault on Hamburg has given rise to the idea that the allies are bent on total destruction of the city, and that other metropolitan centers of military importance will follow. The Germans themselves have jumped to the conclusion that Berlin is next on the list, and a partial evacuation is under way.

So the allied bombing experiment is going places. Both German military resources and civilian morale have been dealt heavy blows. Perhaps one of the severest shocks Hitler has been given is the destruction caused in the Rumanian oil field by American Fortresses. He has been depending on Rumania for perhaps half his slender supply of oil, and any considerable loss in these resources would represent a major catastrophe.

War Summary

SICILY — Allies continue gains, forcing Nazis to bring more planes to avert a rout.

RUSSIA — Fall of great German stronghold at Orel believed near; 3,500 Nazis killed; Russians also crush five-day German offensive below Voroshilovgrad.

ITALY — Allied warplanes again blast Naples; Italian troops reported in general withdrawal from Greece. Clamor for peace dwindles under stringent methods employed by new Badoglio regime.

LONDON — Foreign Secretary Eden says no peace terms yet offered to Italy but tells house of commons the allies would adopt a "reasonable attitude."

AIR WAR—RAF heavy bombers give Germany a respite; 21,520 tons of bombs dropped on Hitler's Europe in July.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—American jungle troops inch ahead against stiffening Japanese resistance in battle of Munda; allied planes destroy 200 enemy troop and ammunition barges in 10 days.

DIES' BALLET DANCER LOSES $5,600 POST

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—John Bovingdon, described by Rep. Dies as a ballet dancer, was fired today from his $5,600-a-year job as principal economic analyst for the office of economic warfare.

Bovingdon, whose recent appointment to the newly created OEW post aroused criticism, earlier today had written Director Leo T. Crowley that he could not accede to the OEW director's suggestion that he resign.

Crowley wrote Bovingdon:

"I have concluded that your continued services will not be for the best interests of the agency. Your services as principal economic analyst of the office of economic warfare are therefore terminated as of the close of business on this date."

Crowley referred to his meeting yesterday with Bovingdon and added that the OEW director "was under the impression that we had jointly reached the conclusion that your resignation, under all the circumstances, would be for the best interest of the office of economic warfare. Your letter of this date which I understand you have also released to the press without consulting me, indicates that you now are of a different view."

In his letter to Crowley Bovingdon said he accepted the post with OEW in good faith and with a desire to help win the war, adding he believed the administration must not "run for cover" each time the Dies committee "think up a new angle for attacking."

FALL OF OREL BELIEVED NEAR; SOVIETS GAIN

Nazi Retreat Reported Under Way Although Germans Say Attacks Repulsed.

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW, Aug. 4 — The fall of the German stronghold of Orel appeared inevitable today as a smashing Red army offensive carried to within five miles of the city.

The German retreat westward from points north and south of Orel proceeded steadily and it seemed only a question of time before Orel itself would be abandoned, eliminating the entire enemy salient on the central front.

(The British radio, quoting a Reuters dispatch from Moscow, declared the Germans' escape corridor west of Orel had been narrowed to 13 miles, threatening the Nazis with another disaster perhaps equal to that suffered at Stalingrad.

(The broadcast recorded by CBS, said that the Germans "are in full and hasty retreat toward Orel, with the three main Russian armies driving forward after them."

German Version

(The German high command communique dismissed the Orel fighting with the assertion that violent Russian tank attacks southwest of that city had been "repulsed everywhere," but told of heavy fighting on the Mius river front on the southern end of the line near Kuibyshevo.

(German infantry, tanks and the Waffen elite guard under command of Field Marshal Gen. Fritz Erich Von Mannstein were reported to have thrown back repeated Soviet attacks in the Mius sector, capturing 17,895 prisoners up to Aug. 2 and destroying 730 tanks. The number of Russian dead was many times that of prisoners taken, the German war bulletin said. A hard struggle was reported continuing in the Belgorod area.)

Frantic counter attacks, into which the desperate Germans threw their full strength of manpower and mechanized forces in an effort to stave off encirclement, have failed to halt the Russian advance, a Soviet communique said.

Soviet columns driving in from the south occupied the towns of Stish and Pilatovka while a spearhead advancing from the east captured the railroad station of Domnino, seven miles from Orel, the war bulletin declared.

The sector north and northwest of Orel, where the Red army is cutting in to pocket the German forces, was the scene of particularly heavy fighting as the Germans aimed sharp blows at the attacking forces only to be forced back with losses estimated in the communique at 2,000 dead.

Heavy German losses also were reported in the area south of Orel where the Nazis counterattacked vainly at a cost of about 1,500 men, the war bulletin said.

In addition to the successes achieved at Orel, the Russians Donets basin, where they said the reported a notable victory in the Nazis had been compelled by serious losses to halt their attacks southwest of Voroshilovgrad after five days of furious fighting.

Eisenhower Ran Sicily Show from Old Palace in Malta

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 4—The island of Malta was disclosed today to have been Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's operational headquarters for the Allied attack on Sicily.

The general and his staff went there four days before the scheduled beginning of the offensive and he stayed in a palace built in 1340 by the Knights of St. John. There he was a guest of Field Marshal Lord Gort, governor general.

These facts were disclosed today as the allied commander-in-chief paid special tribute to the island's people, "the most bombed and shot on earth," to Lord Gort and to the Malta air force.

During General Eisenhower's stay there, offices were placed in limestone tunnels, grim reminders of the year in which the island was subjected to more than 2,000 air raids.

Under Two Raids

There were two raids during that time but one of the general's aides said neither produced as much discomfort as sand flies capable of producing a fever of 104 degrees. Several of his staff were laid low that way while waiting for the invasion to begin.

In one of his tributes today, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"The epic of Malta is a symbolic experience of the United Nations in this war. Malta has passed successfully through the stages of woeful unpreparedness, tenacious endurance, intensive preparation and the initiation of a fierce offensive. It is resolutely determined to maintain the rising crescendo of attack until the whole task is complete. For this inspiring example, the United Nations will be forever indebted to Field Marshal Lord Gort and the fighting services under his command and to every citizen for the heroic stand."

Eisenhower also told Sir Keith Park, commander of the Malta air force, the invasion of Sicily might not have been possible without the force's preliminary work.

Covering the invasion of Sicily, Malta-based fighters shot down 203 enemy aircraft, 122 falling before Spitfires, 76 to night fighters and five to Beaufighters.

Malta's Score

Before aiding in United Nations' offensive operations, the Malta air command, coupled with the anti-aircraft defenses, downed more than 1,000 axis planes from the time the island came on the direct firing line with the entrance of Italy into the war in June, 1940.

Malta increasingly became the Mediterranean's hot spot as the inhabitants and defenders fought off nearly 2,000 axis air raids.

The day finally came when the Maltese who had been through the worst the enemy could offer from the air found themselves in the center of the preparation for the big attack. Some units of the Maltese troops actually went with the allied forces into Sicily.

That is the reason for General Eisenhower's tribute.

LINE TREMBLES UNDER LAND, SEA, AIR BLOWS

Warships Join Planes and Land Batteries In Great Concentrated Attack.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 4 — The Mt. Etna line trembled under one of the greatest concentrations of fire in the war today as huge formations of allied bombers and fight-bombers joined with British and American warships and hundreds of batteries of field artillery in hammering the axis' fixed defenses.

The full fury of the tremendous air, sea and land bombardment was unleashed in support of the big push of the land troops which, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters communique announced, marked up an advance of six miles in the Americans' northern sector and a gain of "several miles" in the central zone flanking Mt. Etna.

Not only bombers but several types of fighters and fighter-bombers ranged unopposed over the German and Italian ground forces, dropping high explosives at point blank range and ripping axis infantry with cannon shells and machine-gun bullets.

Traffic Jam In Skies

A frontline witness said "the roar in the sky is deafening. It's a regular traffic jam up there."

Adrano, at the western base of Mt. Etna, and the gun positions and roads in that area were the focal point of the aerial-wrought destruction, and 80 enemy trucks were reported destroyed and 100 damaged.

RAF Wellingtons attacked Naples, swamping the defenses with a concentrated bombing.

Rested veterans of the allied victory in Tunisia took over from some of the weary advance guard in Sicily to give punch to the final allied offensive.

The presence of heavy American cruisers in Sicilian waters was disclosed for the first time in an announcement which said they were pumping heavy shells into axis defenses built into the high ground west of Cape Orlando, about 43 miles west of Messina.

The cape is on the extreme left flank of the American Seventh Army.

Advance in Mountains

The shattering bombardment, coupled with a blanket of fire from American field artillery, was preceding the doughboys' advance through broken mountainous country.

At the same time the communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters announced very satisfactory progress was being made by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army on the southern flank toward Catania.

Catenanuova, about three miles southwest of fallen Centuripe and directly west of Catania, was captured, and the taking of Agira, previously reported, also was confirmed.

"Our positions in the center were strengthened and heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy," the communique continued.

Advances of up to six miles were marked up by the Americans in the north and Caronia, about four miles east of San Stefano and 18 miles west of Cape Orlando, was captured, the communique said.

An allied air communique reported heavy attacks against Adrano at the western base of Mt. Etna, and gun positions in that area, and said many vehicles were destroyed by fighters which were active all day long.

Naples Punished

In the offensive against the Italian mainland, allied aircraft again struck at Naples.

Hits were scored on an enemy merchantship in attacks on shipping.

In all the allied air activity four enemy planes were destroyed at a cost of two allied aircraft, the communique said.

With the axis defense line around the base of Mount Etna cracked in numerous places, the American Seventh Army under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., and the British and Canadian Eighth Army were closing in on the last tiny triangle of land which barred the way to the Italian mainland.

The Americans, strongly supported by the airforce, were beating their way up the Tyrrhenian coast road with Milazzo, 20 miles from Messina, as the next objective. At the same time an inland column pushed ahead from Troina on the Taormina road toward Randazzo, which lies at the northern base of Mt. Etna.

To the southeast Canadian forces were leaping [illegible] in an advance which put [illegible] them from Regalbuto to Centuripe, with

EDEN SAYS NO PEACE OFFERED

Declares Allies Have Not Made Special Proposals to Italy; Badoglio Still Silent.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 4 — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reiterated in the house of commons today that the allies had offered Italy no peace terms when asked how it happened that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had spoken of "honorable conditions of peace" in his recent broadcast to the Italian people.

Declaring that the allies continue to demand unconditional surrender, Eden said shortly:

"I do not want to argue this matter now, but I can understand circumstances in which unconditional surrender might not be dishonorable to those who made it."

Eden's statement gave the lie to German broadcasts yesterday which quoted a Geneva dispatch as saying President Roosevelt had advanced a seven-point armistice proposal to Italy.

Surrender Resistance Grows

It came amid indication of growing resistance to unconditional surrender demands which strengthened the conviction that an all-out allied invasion of Italy was the only course left open to the allies to knock her out of the war.

While Eden told the house of commons last night the allies would be "only too ready" to adopt a "reasonable attitude" toward Italy in return for aid against Germany, his statement raised no hopes that an immediate peace was in prospect.

On the contrary, there was a growing belief that new, heavy blows must be inflicted—perhaps a lightning land drive into the Italian mainland itself even while the battle of Sicily is in full swing—to take Italy out of the war before Germany consolidates her position in the peninsula.

Say War Must Go On

German broadcasts were backing what apparently was Premier Badoglio's program — that the war must go on—to the limit, despite indications that Mussolini's successor does not speak for the great masses of the Italian people. The fact that he is using his control of the government and the army to stifle the overwhelming public clamor for peace, indicates, it was believed, his intention of playing the German game as long as possible.

C. of C. Board Votes Approval of School Levy

The board of directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce went on record today in support of the two-mill school levy which will be presented to voters at the city primary election next Tuesday.

The action was taken recently and announcement of it was made in the chamber's monthly bulletin circulated today.

The announcement reads as follows:

At the suggestion of the taxation committee, an impartial survey of the city's school finances was made several weeks ago. The study showed that an additional one-mill levy would be necessary to maintain the teachers' present salary structure, and that if salary increases were to be granted, it would be necessary for the voters to approve a two-mill levy.

The school board has caused to be placed upon the ballot at the coming primary election a request for an additional two-mills, and after careful consideration the board of directors of this organization urges the support of that levy.

Ever mindful of the fact that taxes must be kept within reasonable bounds, the board appreciates that if the public school teachers are to receive fair salaries, it is up to taxpayers of the community to see that funds are made available; and it is only through taxation that such finances can be obtained.

RAIN FLOODS MANY CITY STREET AREAS

Small Amount of Damage Reported from Storm.

Marion residents whose work called them out at 7 o'clock and thereabouts this morning either hurdled outsized streams which covered the sidewalks in many places or swished through miniature lakes as they walked or motored to their places of employment. The show staged by Jupiter Pluvius to the accompaniment of thunder and lightning was a genuine, old-fashioned rain storm, which caused little damage aside from the flooding of basements in many sections of the city and turning the streets into canals. Rainfall between 8 a. m. yesterday at 8 a. m. today was 2.85 inches, and the forecast is "thundershowers."

Telephone service was hampered by lightning at Richwood and LaRue and in the western part of the county, but the slight damage was repaired and the lines were in service by mid-morning. Repairmen at the Marion-Reserve Power plant were agreeably surprised when only minor damage to their lines resulted from the storm and this was repaired as a part of the regular day's schedule.

Buses of the Marion Rapid Transit lines forded streams on

ABSENTEE VOTING TO END THURSDAY

Deadline for Casting Ballots in Primary Is 7:30 P. M.

Deadline for casting absentee voter ballots for next Tuesday's city primary is Thursday at 6:30 p. m. slow time (or 7:30 p. m., Marion time), C. G. Ritzler, deputy clerk of the Marion county board of elections, reported today.

The same deadline, Mr. Ritzler said, would be in effect for requests by mail for absentee voter ballots. Ballots obtained by mail must be in the hands of election officials by Friday noon (slow time), he said.

Since July 12, when absentee ballots were first accepted, only 24 have been cast.

Polls will open for the primary Tuesday morning at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6:30 p .m. (slow time). In other words the polls actually will not open until 7:30 a. m. Marion time and will not close until 7:30 p. m.

The polls will operate on slow time because public elections are conducted according to state regulations and slow time is the standard time throughout Ohio.

City Police Dance Scheduled Tonight

Final arrangements are being completed today for the annual police dance tonight at the Hy-Way Rollarena, given by Marion County Lodge No. 24, Fraternal Order of Police. Music for the dance, which starts at 9 p. m., will be provided by Dick Zahn's orchestra.

A large attendance is expected, as more than 1,000 tickets have already been sold. Non-commissioned service men will be admitted free if accompanied by a woman.

Tickets may be obtained from patrolmen or at the police station. Proceeds of the dance will go to the lodge.

Radio station WMRN will broadcast the dance program from 10:15 to 10:30.

Members of the city police department will be in charge of various phases of the event and will supervise parking.

Commissioners Approve County Budget for 1944

The Marion county budget anticipating the expenditures of the county for 1944, presented at a public meeting Monday in the office of the county commissioners, has been approved by the board of commissioners. The budget, which estimated the total expenditures for carrying on the county business next year at $271,245, was approved as presented at the hearing.

Marion Plans "Molly Pitcher" Tag Days To Aid Bond Sales

National Tag day will be observed in Marion, Friday and Saturday when women of the Marion County Bond committee will offer tags for sale, honoring Molly Pitcher, one of the first women in history who carried on after her husband's life had been sacrificed for his country.

History tells us that she was carrying water to the men on the battlefield during the Battle of Monmouth when her husband was killed. She took his place at the cannon where he was stationed and continued to fight.

The purchase of bonds and stamps from the [illegible] men will entitle [illegible] red, white and blue tag which bears the outline of a pitcher.

The purchases will signify that the men and women of today are also carrying on in the fight for freedom as Molly Pitcher was forced to do in the Revolutionary War.

Sales will be made on the streets by members of the committee [illegible] stations.

Bond Sales at Victory House Total Over $4,000

Bond and stamp sales from the Victory House for last week totaled $4,225 and $538.20, respectively, as compared with the sales of $4,827.50 and $557.75 for the previous week, Miss Maude Gorham reported today.

Daily sales were: Monday, bonds, $712.50, stamps, $59.85; Tuesday, $637.50, stamps, $18.90; Wednesday, $168.75, stamps, $50.30; Thursday, bonds, $843.75, stamps, $149.40; Friday, bonds, $468.75, stamps, $157.80; Saturday, bonds, $1,593.75, stamps, $101.95.

Since all of the transactions from Friday night's auction have not been completed, the sales for that night have not been included in the week's total.

BIG BOMBERS GIVE GERMANY A REST

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 4—RAF intruder planes carried out their usual forays over the continent last night but Britain's heavy bombers took a rest after having been in almost continuous action for the past two weeks against Hamburg and other objectives in Germany.

The sound of large numbers of planes over the channel during the night and air force belief the bombers were again out.

The air ministry news service announced Typhoons of the fighter wing and one of seven escorting vessels above a Dutch-level attack on an enemy convoy off Le Havre, France, yesterday.

The British Air Ministry News service announced allied airfields based on the British Isles dumped a record 21,532 tons of high explosives on Germany and German-occupied Europe during July—more than 93 times as much as the Nazis ever dropped in their greatest raid on any English city.

One-third of the tonnage was dropped on the seaport city of Hamburg.

The axis lost 1,202 aircraft over Europe, England, Malta, North Africa and the Middle East as against 596 for the allies.

Mt. Vernon Church Asks Aid of Court in Banishing Sixteen

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, O., Aug. 4—The [illegible] of the Van Buren Church of [illegible] petitioned to expel [illegible] court in an effort [illegible] 16 expelled members from entering the house of worship.

Common Pleas Judge Fred B. [illegible] of Delaware dismissed yesterday a petition seeking to restrain the expelled members from entering the church and C. B. McClintock of Canton, attorney for representatives of the church board, said there would be no appeal to the Ohio supreme court in the case.

"It now becomes a question as to whether a court has the legal right to interfere in church affairs," McClintock asserted.

During a four-day hearing on the injunction petition Robert L. Carr of Mt. Vernon, attorney for the defendants, asked the court to reinstate his clients as members of the church. Judge Workham said he felt they should be reinstated but that he did not have the authority to do so.

The 16 members were expelled "for failure to obey the rules set down by the church officials and for insubordination," McClintock said.

He said the board sought to bar them after they annoyed the minister (Rev. H. C. Mayhew) and the rest of the congregation "by whispering and laughing" during services.

CARDINGTON WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD NEAR HOME

Mrs. Lillian McConnell Ends Life by Hanging.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Aug. 4—Mrs. Lillian Marie McConnell, 23, wife of Ernest M. McConnell of Cardington, was found dead by her husband in a barn at their home yesterday afternoon. Dr. Lowell Murphy, Morrow county coroner, pronounced cause of death suicide by hanging and placed the time of death at approximately 2 p. m. She had been in ill health some time.

Mrs. McConnell had been dead about an hour when discovered, according to the time set for death by the physician. Mr. McConnell had gone to a grocery, had been absent from home for more than an hour and, missing his wife when he returned, began a search for her.

Besides her husband she leaves two children, Dianna Janette, 3, and Eleanor Jean, 1, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Gibbs of Marion, two sisters, Betty and Rosemary at home, and two brothers, Ralph in the armed forces in South Carolina and James overseas.

Born Jan. 27, 1920 in Marion, she was a daughter of E. J. Gibbs and Clara Hedge Gibbs. She lived most of her life in Ashley where the family moved after her birth, and was graduated from the Ashley High school. Sept. 26, 1938 she was married in Ashley to Mr. McConnell. The McConnells moved to Cardington about 14 months ago.

WOOD CARGO PLANE CONTRACTS DROPPED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The War Department has announced it is canceling contracts for manufacture of the C-76 cargo plane by the Curtiss-Wright Co. at Louisville and the Higgins Co. at New Orleans.

The amount of the contracts, awarded on a cost-plus-fixed fee basis, were not disclosed by the department, but it was understood from other quarters that they had contemplated the expenditure of approximately $400,000,000.

The army said experience with experimental models established that the plane would be more expensive and less efficient than those now being manufactured from metal.

Metal cargo planes such as the Douglas C-47 and C-54 and the Curtiss Commando C-46, "are highly successful and are now in volume production," the Army said.

THREE ARRESTED IN KENTON AVE. FIGHT

Face Disorderly Charges as Result of Altercation.

As a result of a fight which police described as "pretty fierce" and which raged on Kenton avenue between Senate and Niles street last night two Negro men and a Negro woman were arrested by City police on disorderly conduct charges.

The men are Frank Moore, 45, of 262 Senate street and Russel White, 27, of 822 Kenton avenue. The woman is Miss Mary Hopkins, 22, of 822 Kenton avenue. All are in city prison, awaiting appearance in municipal court.

Police are not certain what caused the fight or if there were any participants other than the three arrested.

When the report of the fight reached police station, it was around 11 o'clock, about the time of the change from the second to the third shift of patrolmen. This necessary changing delayed the arrival of the police on Kenton avenue and a freight train added more to the delay.

Police reported that a long train held them up at the Kenton avenue crossing. They said they could see some people scuffling on the other side of the tracks when a break in the train gave them enough space to look through.

When the train passed, police said the fighting had ceased. A short time later, however, they arrested Moore and Miss Hopkins on Kenton avenue.

Police said knives were used in the fight by some of the participants. White suffered head lacerations and was taken to City hospital before patrolmen arrived at the scene. He was arrested at the hospital at 12:17 this morning following treatment for minor cuts.

GALION ELECTRICAL WORKERS SEEK RAISE

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 4—City Council Tuesday received a petition from the local union of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers asking for an increase of ten cents in hourly rate. Members of the union are employed at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant. They explain the increase is necessary to meet additional taxes and the high living costs. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Paul A. Uhlmann of Columbus, consulting engineer, reviewed the water supply program started a year ago. It was pointed out by Mayor William Amann that while council appropriated $35,000 for a dam and spillway for an 85,000,000 gallon reservoir on the Hurley farm, southwest of Galion, the cost will be only $30,000 when it is completed in the near future.

Figures Presented To Show Urgent Need of School Levy

• • •

The income that [illegible] raised by the city [illegible] given a majority [illegible] next week, will be used for [illegible] purposes.

1—Supply the $30,000 needed by the board of education to continue to pay its employes at the present level.

2—Make a $15 a month cost-of-living adjustment in the wages of all employes beginning Jan. 1 next year.

3—Pay the increased costs of operating supplies.

The first of these three items figures in the levy program for two reasons, first because the schools had about $30,200 more for operating purposes this year than they can hope to get from the same sources next year and, secondly, because of a $10-a-month pay increase given all school employes early this year.

The schools started off 1943 with a $26,000 cash balance on hand, and in addition received some overdue payments from the state foundation funds. In contrast, it is not likely to have any balance with which to start 1944, and its share of funds from the state foundation are not likely to be above the usual level as it was this year. It was the extra money available this year from these sources that made the $10-a-month increase available for school employes early this year. In other words, without the levy the board not only will not be able to grant a further $15-a-month increase next January which it hopes to do to offset increased living costs, but it also may be obliged to withdraw the $10 pay boost granted the employes this year.

Officials emphasize that $30,200, or nearly half of the revenue that the levy would produce, is needed to continue to operate the schools at their present level, including payment of salaries at existing levels.

The other portion of the revenue the levy would provide is needed for the $15-a-month salary increase planned for next year and for increased costs of operating supplies.

In leaflets distributed by the Marion City Council of Parents and Teachers in support of the levy, it is stated that the board of education faces two choices if the levy is not approved:

"(1) To reduce the cost of schools in 1944 by $30,200. Since 75 per cent of expenditures are for wages this would mean a reduction of wages for the school year 1944-45 and failure [illegible]

LIMA MAN KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 4—The bodies of two railroad men killed as two Nickel Plate railroad freight trains collided head-on near here last night were recovered today from the mass of wreckage.

The bodies recovered were those of Robert Denny of Lima, O., and Louis Ellerman of Frankfort, Ind.

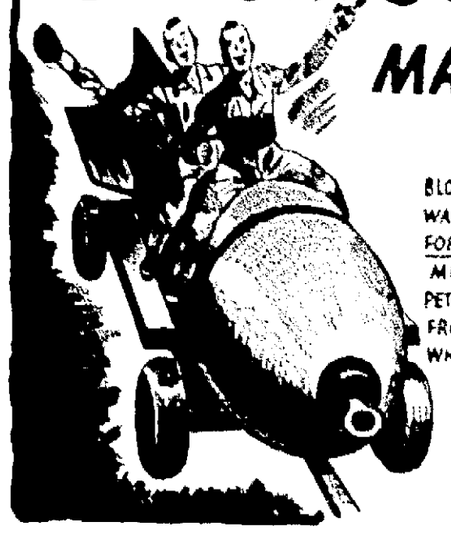
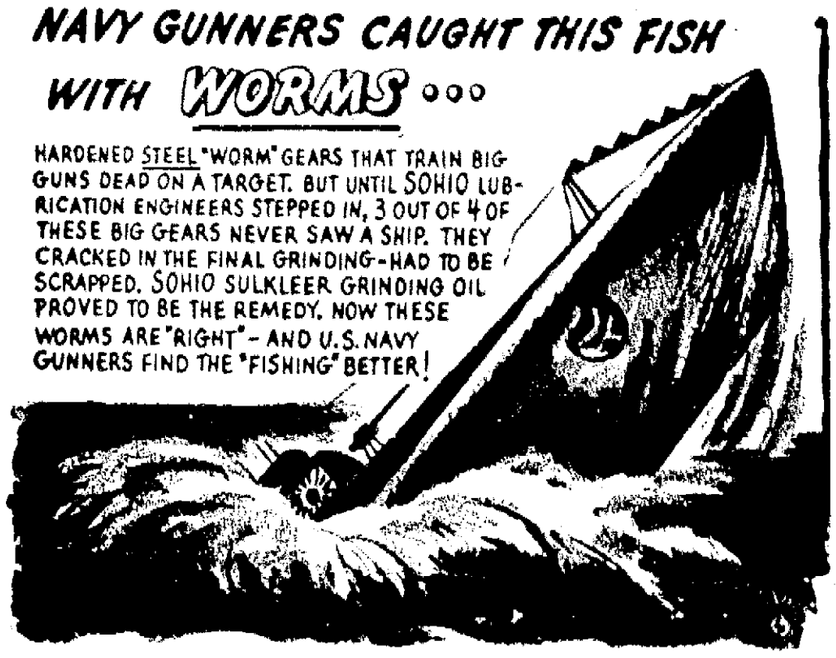
"BLOCK BUSTERS" MADE OF OIL!



BLOCK-BUSTER BOMBS OWE THEIR TERRIFIC WALLOP TO TNT. IF WE HAD TO RELY ON FORMER SOURCES OF SUPPLY, AMERICA MIGHT FACE A SERIOUS SHORTAGE. BUT PETROLEUM CHEMISTS DEVELOPED TOLUENE FROM OIL - THE BASIC INGREDIENT FROM WHICH NEARLY ALL OUR TNT IS MADE TODAY! NO DANGER OF SHORTAGE NOW - THERE'S PLENTY TO SMACK BOTH HITLER AND TOJO DOWN!

NAVY GUNNERS CAUGHT THIS FISH WITH WORMS ...

HARDENED STEEL "WORM" GEARS THAT TRAIN BIG GUNS DEAD ON A TARGET. BUT UNTIL SOHIO LUBRICATION ENGINEERS STEPPED IN, 3 OUT OF 4 OF THESE BIG GEARS NEVER SAW A SHIP. THEY CRACKED IN THE FINAL GRINDING - HAD TO BE SCRAPPED. SOHIO SULKLEER GRINDING OIL PROVED TO BE THE REMEDY. NOW THESE WORMS ARE "RIGHT" - AND U.S. NAVY GUNNERS FIND THE "FISHING" BETTER!



WHICH IS BIGGEST?

WHICH AMERICAN INDUSTRY DO YOU THINK IS THE BIGGEST PRODUCER OF WAR PRODUCTS? RIGHT, YOU ARE! IT'S THE OIL INDUSTRY -- WHICH TURNS OUT TWICE THE WAR TONNAGE OF THE NEXT BIGGEST BASIC WAR PRODUCER.

WALKING WON'T DO!

4 OUT OF EVERY 5 WAR PLANT WORKERS DEPEND ON AUTOMOBILES TO GET TO WORK. THAT'S WHY ONE OF SOHIO'S MOST IMPORTANT WAR JOBS IS TO "KEEP 'EM ROLLING" ON THE HOME FRONT! A HIGH GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SAYS: "IT IS A MILITARY NECESSITY, TO KEEP THE COUNTRY'S TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM ALIVE!"

DID YOU KNOW THIS?

Artificial fog, made from a secret petroleum product, was used by American and Allied troops in the invasion of North Africa.

• • •

Oil, oil everywhere! Practically everything you touch requires oil at some stage in the making. Oil chemists are now even testing a new synthetic product to coat tin cans for the food industry.

• • •

Pipe lines that go backwards! To help relieve the Atlantic Seaboard oil shortage, oil companies reversed pipe lines that used to carry oil from the East—now send it to the East!

• • •

Jap "Zeros" shot down with oil! The fighter plane cannon shell that blasts a Jap "Zero" out of the sky may travel the last 500 yards on gunpowder—but it travels the first 500 miles on gasoline! Oil is ammunition!

• • •

Tough target! Axis planes would have a difficult time bombing our oil fields. In the constant search for oil, to keep it plentiful and inexpensive, the oil industry has located fields on five million acres throughout 23 states!

8 GIRL SCOUTS ON 3-DAY BIKE JAUNT

Take Trip to Marysville as Scouting Project.

Eight senior Girl Scouts and four leaders, comprising the bicycle unit at Day Camp, undertook a three-day bicycle jaunt to Marysville last week.

Miss Barbara Fralich was leader of the group, assisted by Miss Marguerite Gehring and Mrs. George Gehring. Winifred Reed accompanied the group as junior counsellor. The girls were, Mary Alice Bonen, Doris Dowler, Lielis Flatman, Betty Lou Freed, Bonnie Kemmerly, Elizabeth Leeper, Jean Leffler and Donna McLain.

Leaving at 6:30 a. m. last Tuesday, the scouts covered the 28 miles by 1 p. m. after stopping for lunch and rest. They spent two nights in the Legion park at Marysville, and Tuesday night, sleeping in an open shelter house, they weathered a severe rain, wind and electrical storm. Due to waterproof coverings on their cots, the girls didn't get very wet, but many were frightened when lightening appeared to strike within 50 feet of them.

The girls, who carried equipment for camping, arrived in Marion at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, after starting at 3 o'clock that afternoon. They all reported that they had a fine time and would like to go again.

MORROW COUNTY SOIL AGREEMENTS APPROVED

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 4 — Eight farmer-district cooperative agreements were approved by the supervisors of the Headwaters Soil Conservation District at their meeting Monday in the court house at Mt. Gilead. Those approved were J. William Reed of North Bloomfield township, Guy F. Renz of Lincoln township, R. Carl Baughman and Kessler-Parkinson of Franklin township, Gar Smith of Congress, Pete and Jean Williams, Robert Van Sickle and Ralph Rengert of Westfield township.

Twenty-three new applications for assistance were considered by the district, 19 of which were approved and the remaining four tabled.

Kermit Morse of the Ohio division of conservation gave an explanation of the assistance his department could give to individual farmers in the construction of farm ponds.

H. E. Hecker, district conservationist, reported an average of 75 farmers viewed each of the pasture improvement demonstration plots located on the Glenn Guiher, W. O. Mead, and Lemoine Rinehart farms. He asked the assistance of the supervisors in locating cooperators for two or three Reed's canary grass demonstration plots.

The supervisors also discussed postwar planning for the Headwaters District.

The services of the district's farm planning technicians were requested by Victor Eichhorn, Farm Security supervisor, prior to the purchase of tenant purchase farms. The supervisors granted the request.

Cassidy Sees Rural Russia on the Eve of War

CHAPTER THREE

The Russian countryside was an interesting spectacle on the way, a panorama of the last peace that all the pretenders to neutrality like Germany was overrunning their neighbors, only to turn against them. Not that Russia was ever really neutral. The first thing that any traveler noticed, in walking the streets of Moscow, was that the people smiled. But in those days it was definitely better. There was good, so there was meat. The Baltic States, which had been absorbed by the Soviet Union just a year before, were beginning to send in their consumers' goods. And it was an island of peaceful construction, amid the wanton destruction all about of the "imperialistic war."

So I saw the Russian people at their happiest under the Soviet regime. I also saw them as they really were when I flew from Moscow to Sochi, on the Caucasian Riviera stretch of the Black Sea coast on vacation.

An antique Packard coupe awaited me, and took me in state to the Riviera Hotel. I walked up the driveway, where the vacationers looked up curiously at me from their dominoes and checkers, and went to my room.

With all the richness of the Caucasus, I had a struggle the next day trying to get a meal. Not that there wasn't anything to eat, but just that I couldn't get it when I wanted it.

I had told them I wanted breakfast in my room at 9 a. m., one piece of fruit, bread, coffee, and nothing more. The director, the reception clerk, the cook, the baggageman, and the maid had all come to see me the night before, to ask what I wanted to eat. I told them all the same thing. They all seemed surprised, but, after all, it seemed quite simple.

So when I woke up at 9 a. m., I rolled out of bed, washed and dressed, thinking breakfast would be along any minute. By 9:30, I was hungry, and there was no breakfast in sight. Luckily I had brought along a couple of apples. I ate them, smoked a cigarette, and sat on the veranda and waited. At 10:30 the maid arrived with a huge tray, which she deposited on the veranda table and started unloading. There was a dish of caviar and onions, sliced and chopped, a plate of fried mushrooms and potatoes, a cucumber and radish salad, cheese, butter, cake, and a bottle of white Abrau 'Reisling' wine, a Soviet copy of the Rhine wine.

'That's dinner,' I protested.

'That's breakfast,' said the maid.

'But I ordered fruit, bread, and coffee,' I objected.

'It's late and too much,' I tried to object.

'It's not me, it's the chef,' she said peremptorily, 'eat,' and she huffed away, her black skirt and white shirt flying.

I nibbled at the meat and vegetables, and then left them. The radio mercifully desisted, so I took a sunbath on the veranda, and when it grew too hot, went into the room and took a nap. At 5 p. m., the loudspeaker opened with a blast again, so I climbed off the bed, read for a while, and then the maid came in for my final food battle of the day. When and where would I eat next, she asked.

'In the restaurant,' I said, 'at 7 p. m.'

Before the war, these Russians cash in on winning five-year plan bonds.

'That is coming next,' the maid said, and she departed.

She came back in a few moments with a platter of brown bread, a jug of coffee, a pot of heavy cream, and a bowl of peaches and cherries.

Good as it may sound, I couldn't eat it. I drank one cup of coffee, pushed the food to the back of the table, out of the sun, and went for a walk.

Outside, the loudspeaker was already squawking the state transmission, the alternate voices of men and women announcers, the songs and speeches. I went back from the shore through a deep park, both to get away from the radio and to see the Caucasus. The mountains were there, snow-peaked in the distance, and so was the radio, following me incessantly. I walked down toward the town, past the queues waiting to take the bus or to buy milk or to get into the sports park, and then turned back. There was no trouble finding the route. I just followed the noise of the loudspeaker.

When I returned, the director and the reception clerk and the cook and the baggageman and the maid were all waiting for me. They wanted to know when I would eat again.

'AT two o'clock,' I told them as firmly as I could, 'and just take away the hot plate, leave the rest of this food here. That is my lunch. Just bring the mushrooms and potatoes back hot.'

They seemed puzzled, but satisfied, and went away, one by one.

I sat on the veranda and listened unwillingly to that radio, drowning out the rushing of the sea, and watched the sun swing around, melting that food. When 2 p. m. arrived without the hot plate, I looked for a bell to call the maid. There was none. When 2:30 came, I surrendered, and sat down to eat the caviar, jelly by now, and the cheese, liquid by now, and to drink the hot wine.

I was just starting on the fruit when the maid marched in carrying another huge platter with two steaks, fried potatoes, carrots, and cucumbers.

'There is no restaurant; only a sanatorium.'

'All right,' I said, 'in the sanatorium, or wherever you like, but only where the others succeed in getting what they want to eat.'

I HAD been worried about a little moth hole at a strategic point in my bathing trunks, but I needn't have been, because, on the Russian Riviera, to paraphrase the old ditty about the hula-hula dance, they don't wear trunks when they go to take their dunks.

As I swam out, I could see that there was a section for women, just beyond the men's, divided by the fence on shore, but not at all in the water. There were only a few women swimming then, and all wore bathing suits. But soon a young girl walked to the water in a dressing gown, dropped it and plunged naked into the sea. On the beach several women were lying nude, sunning themselves on the benches.

The water was warm, with almost no surf, and I soon had enough, swam back to shore, climbed on a bench, and reflected on how simple and childlike the Russians could be in some matters, while so complex and mature in others.

There wasn't the slightest trace of consciousness or indecency about their nakedness. With or without trunks, the men swam together or played a game which consisted of throwing pebbles at the feet of anyone who lingered at the edge of the water. A few men who wore trunks at first peeled them off later. They simply preferred swimming that way, while the women seemed to prefer to wear suits.

A blonde girl in charge sitting at the door inside the enclosure bothered me a bit, but she paid no more attention to the men than she would have to animals. She wandered idly across the beach once, stopping to talk to one or two men lying face up on their benches, and proceeded to pick up a piece of paper which had been tossed on the floor. Then she strolled back and took her place again at the desk.

The midday sun was burning, and after lying in it for a while to dry, I dressed and walked back to the hotel.

By the time lunch came the food situation was obviously well in hand. Breakfast had come promptly at 9 a. m., with fruit, bread, and coffee—and only a small plate of caviar and a dish of liver as extras. For lunch they brought to my cubbyhole above the dining room a platter of chicken, rice, fried potatoes, and cucumber, which was just my size, and I succeeded in exchanging the bottle of champagne and Madeira for a glass of milk.

Thus I passed exactly one week, eating and sleeping, swimming and reading.

Mrs. Bertha Maude Taylor, 58, of 440 Ballantine avenue, died at her home at 11 a. m. today of a heart attack. She had been in poor health for about two years but had only been ill a short time.

She was born April 9, 1885 in Henry county and was married to Franklin Taylor who died seven years ago. Mrs. Taylor was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist church and was employed at Smitty's Bar and Grill. Prior to her coming to Marion 18 years ago, she lived in Bucyrus.

Surviving are a son, Paul E. Taylor, who is stationed overseas with the Navy, a daughter, Mrs. Vile Ferne Van Vleeah of 826 Silver street, a half-sister, Mrs. Myrtle Shartzer of Hamber, O., and one grandchild.

Friends may call after noon tomorrow at the Boyd and Uncapher Funeral Home.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT CO. H MEETING

19 Receive Recognition for Attendance Records.

Col. Earl W. Brannon of Columbus, regimental commander, and Lt. Col. Albert C. Rankin of London, O., battalion commander, presented 19 members of Co. H with an attendance award Tuesday evening at the Armory.

The regimental officers had accepted the invitation, offered by Capt. Carl Ebert, to present the ribbons to the guardsmen who qualified for the award. To receive the small red bar with a silver "O" in the center, members had to attend at least 45 out of 48 scheduled drills, been present at a field training period and be free from court martial. The award, the only one given by the state, is the first received by the Marion company.

Col. Brannon gave a brief talk before the presentation in which he stated that "you and I both hope that the time never comes when we will be called to protect our homes, but if it should be, your serious acceptance of the military training will stand you in good stead and you will be ready for the emergency". He then presented the ribbons with a personal comment for each.

Lt. Col. Rankin presented 19 members with honorable discharges and comented on the fact that 16 had reenlisted. Five new recruits were inducted and their membership cards were presented by Col. Brannon.

A close order drill, instructions in special operations by Cpl. Albert Ward and the manual of the bayonet under Cpl. Lloyd Turner were given during the last hour of the drill period. Since last night was an official drill, the new pay raise based on regular Army pay went into effect.

Families of some of the members were present. John Haubert received the bar for his son, Roy, who is now in the Navy and Timothy Caldwell received the award for his son, Robert, who was unable to attend because of work. Fred Miller was given the discharge for his son, Ormond, who is now in the Army.

Special guests were Mrs. Rankin, Sgt. Eugene Rousch, battalion staff sergeant, Sgt. Rodney Pickens, battalion mess sergeant, Sgt. Charles Brannon, regimental staff sergeant, Lt. Robert Grace of Camp Shelby, a former member of Co. D, Cadet Donald Phillians, who is stationed in Louisiania and Harry Watte, petty officer in the Navy, both charter members.

Rail Unions Withhold New Strike Ballot

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Officers of 15 railway labor unions approved a strike ballot today but agreed not to issue it pending further conferences with railroad officials, starting Friday.

A strike vote might result in government seizure and operation of the roads for the duration. Railroad officials, anxious to avert this, were reported willing to discuss an agreement to be submitted jointly with the unions for government approval.

The unions represent more than 1,000,000 non-operating employes. An emergency board which heard their demands for an increase of 20 cents an hour and a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour, recommend an increase of 8 cents. Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson set aside the recommendation.

Georgia First State To Cut Voting Age to 18

ATLANTA, Aug. 4 — Georgia apparently has become the first state in the union to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years and Gov. Ellis Arnall today announced his intention of seeking a plank in the next Democratic platform to extend this throughout the nation.

Incomplete returns from yesterday's general election showed a margin of about three-to-one in favor of giving the franchise to 'teen-age youths.

Softball Commission Decides To Stage Little World Series

Traditional End of Season Championship Competition To Be Maintained; District Tourney Sponsorship Dropped.

The Marion softball commission in a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last night voted to withdraw the proposal of running a city tournament this year and to stage the usual Little World Series in its stead, all.

In another important decision the commission also agreed not to sponsor the district softball tournament of the state amateur softball association, which it had voted to do at a meeting last week.

It was indicated by some local softball officials that the movement to stage the district tournament here is by no means dead. Meetings of men interested in having the tourney take place here will be held in the near future, these officials said.

Tradition played the number one role in swaying the minds of the commissioners back to the Little World Series idea. They unanimously agreed they did not want to break down old series setup after it had become a fixture in local diamond affairs for many years.

Dates Set

The series will be played on four nights at Lincoln park, Aug. 16, 18, 20 and 23. The champions of the city's three softball leagues, Industrial, Commercial, and Sunday School, will be the participants in the series. The customary elimination procedure will be followed in this year's series, the commission decided. Before a team can be counted out of series competition, it must be defeated twice.

Commissioners decided to hold drawings to determine which two city champs would touch off series play on Aug. 16. The third team will hold a sort of "bye" for first night play. The commission also voted to leave the decision of whether the idle team would play the winning or losing squad in the first game up to the series representatives.

This three-way play-off for the city championship, the commission believes, will be much more satisfactory to local fans than any tournament involving all the city's teams.

Reversed Decision Explained

Because of transportation and financial difficulties and the effect of the war effort on participants as well as spectators, the commission agreed to withdraw from its position of sponsor of the district softball tournament.

This tourney has been scheduled to get under way August 12. All softball teams from Marion, Seneca, Wyandot, Crawford and Morrow counties which meet state amateur softball association requirements have been deemed eligible to enter district competition.

At a meeting of the commission at the YMCA Tuesday night, T. H. McKenney, district commissioner of the state association, presented the idea of supervising the tourney to the local commission. The commissioners present, at that meeting only about one-half the entire body, accepted Mr. McKenney's suggestion and agreed to work out plans for the tourney.

However, last night, with all but two commissioners present, and after a lengthy and thorough discussion, a motion was made that the commission withdraw its sponsorship of the district tourney. This motion was almost unanimously passed.

In addition to the aforementioned reasons for the backing down of the commission in respect to the district tourney, members also said their first duty was to see that a successful playoff among local teams would be assured.

Huber Regains Industrial Loop Lead by Defeating Engineers by Score of 5-3

Huber's Threshers are stationed again in first place in the seesaw Industrial league following a 5 to 3 victory over the Marion Engineer Depot at Lincoln park last night.

With Universal Cooler idle last night, the Threshers broke the Industrial deadlock to go a half game ahead of Cooler. Universal has one league game left, that with Commercial Steel Thursday night. If Cooler bests the Steelers, a playoff game between Huber and Universal will be played Aug. 13 to determine the Industrial loop championship.

The game between Commercial Steel and the Waldo Dodgers at Garfield park Tuesday night was postponed because of wet grounds. Marion Mewhorter, secretary of the softball commission, said that tilt would be re-scheduled at the next open date for the two teams.

Wins in Last Inning

Huber, in winning its seventh game of the season, was forced to wait until the seventh inning to tally the winning runs. The score at the end of the sixth inning stood 3 and 3.

Loren Willoughby, Huber third sacker, led off the final frame with one of Depot pitcher Masura's six walks. Shultz then was presented a post on the sacks after one of the three Engineer errors. Willoughby was out at home after trying to go all the way on the error. However, Shumate followed with a single to drive in Shultz. Speedy Pete Howison walked, Bob Gibson singled. Ted Anderson was safe on an error, and Bob Armbruster singled to complete the Thresher seventh.

Huber scored on run in fourth and added two more in the fifth to go three-up over the Depot. The Engineers came back with two runs in the fifth to knot the count. In this stanza Harrison doubled, and Malloy and Shurlus singled to account for the markers.

Harrison Tops Batters

Harrison led the Depot offensive with two doubles for three trips. He was also the leading sticker of the night for both teams.

Harold Millisor copped his seventh win of the season by hesting Masura of the Depot last night. "Pat" fanned three and issued not a single free ticket. Masura also struck out three.

Last night marked the sixth loss of the year for the Engineers. They have won only one loop game and are now deeper than ever in the Industrial cellar.

Score by innings:

Huber ..... 001 210 2—5 7 1
Engineer Depot ..... 010 020 0—3 6 3

Batteries—Millisor and Conkle; Masura and Harrison.

WOMAN FINED $50

Mrs. Nina Gardner, 42, of N. 7th Main street was fined $50 and costs in municipal court today after she pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny. A second charge against her of being a suspicious person was dismissed by Judge Hazen. Mrs. Gardner, arrested by city police at 8:44 Tuesday night on North Main street, was charged with stealing a revolver from her former husband.

WAVE Recruiter Coming To Marion

Ensign Kathryn Leiken will be at the naval recruiting substation at 136 South Main street on Friday and Saturday to interview women between the ages of 20 and 36 who are interested in enlisting in the WAVES.

Recently the Navy reemphasized the increasing demand and importance for women to serve in the Women's reserve of the Navy. Women with experience in practically every business, profession or industry are urgently needed at once. Applicants without experience will receive the necessary training to qualify them for duty.

Chief John J. Dugan, recruiter in charge of the Marion substation, urged girls from Marion and surrounding counties to visit with Ensign Leiken on her visit here this week. The station is open daily, except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The Worst of Rationing

EVERYBODY has heard the story of the harassed citizen who was run ragged making the rounds of rationing boards, inspectors, this authority and that authority. All the poor fellow wanted, of course, was a new egg-beater.

Perhaps the hero of the story is yourself. Your experiences with rationing are something to tell about, too—and if you're human you don't spoil the story by not making the most of it before a sympathetic audience.

It's all part of a national pastime called making the worst of rationing. Under the rules of the game, nobody gets an even break, except the long-suffering hero of the tale, who always was 100 per cent right and above reproach. The things he suffers at the hands of officials who have entered into some sort of conspiracy to thwart him are to be compared only with the inch-by-inch approach to Mundo—in the favorite version.

There probably is nothing that can be done about this. Perhaps nothing should be done, the right to complain being one of the sacred prerogatives of citizenship in a free country. Yet, the possibility that individuals here and there might ease wartime rationing for themselves and the harassed officials trying to make too little go to far by making the best of it, instead of the worst of it, is something to think about between stories of grim hardship.

Why one fellow we know who wanted to get a new hoot-nanny for a broken potato peeler was chased all over town for two days trying to get it and would you believe it, he never said a word—just said he wished it didn't have to be that way but certainly didn't know how it could be done any other way. That fellow must be one in a million.

All Free

JAMES C. PETRILLO'S announcement that American Federation of Musicians will spend up to $500,000 to give small cities in the United States free symphonic concerts—an estimated total of 570 engagements—is a major surprise in the battle of music being waged between Mr. Petrillo and his antagonists.

According to his plan, nearly all the first and second-rate symphony orchestras of the country will share in this musical promotion, financed by their own money from their own union's treasury. Mr. Petrillo explains that the idea originated with President Roosevelt, who expressed concern last December because the people in small cities weren't getting enough first-class concert music.

It would not be tactful to look this gift horse in the mouth. If American Federation of Musicians wants to spend half a million dollars to put on free concerts, there can be no objection. There is still one question about Mr. Petrillo that never has been answered, however. How is he getting along in his campaign to relieve unemployed musicians by forbidding employed musicians to play for the recording companies? Specifically, are there more or less musicians employed now than there were when he took full musical charge of the United States?

Poetic Justice

THE little trains go chugging back and forth over the railroad from Jibuti to Addis Ababa. The sun beats down, and the flies are bad. Emperor Haile Selassie sits on his throne in the primitive capital of his primitive country. He smiles in his beard as reports from Italy are brought from the telegraph office.

His tormentor and conqueror, Mussolini, is in hiding. King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, who once accepted the title of Emperor of Ethiopia from his swaggering premier, is busy now holding to his own precarious perch. The wise men at Geneva are wiser now—and sadder. If his imagination runs that far, the incongruous little emperor must think of them as children whose fingers had to be burned in the fire before they could be made to understand that great disasters grow from relatively small beginnings.

In 1934, when Ethiopia was marked for conquest by superior forces, his pleas for help elicited nothing more than the deepest sympathy. Like China's pleas, which came later, they were inconvenient and could not be responded to without a great deal of bother and expense. Haile Selassie wandered like a fugitive from a masquerade party through a world that preferred not to take him seriously.

But all's well that ends well. He wouldn't trade places with Mussolini now, nor even with Victor Emmanuel.

So They Say—

It is believed that the equipment of the American army is superior to that of other armies. This is particularly true of American transportation, which has continued to stand up under almost inconceivable conditions—Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Second army commander in Tunisia.

I can't give out the exact speed, but I bought some Danish pastry once in Iceland and had it for dinner that same evening in Washington. —Capt. Ralph Reed of air transport command.

Reds Close Home Stand in Defeat; Start 21-Day Trip

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 4—The Cincinnati Reds embarked on their longest road trip of the season today—a jaunt that will keep them away from home for 21 days during which they will visit the home parks of the other seven clubs in the league.

Tonight they will step at Fort Sheridan, Ill., for an exhibition game with the soldiers. On Friday they open a five game series with the Chicago Cubs.

The Reds closed their home stay yesterday on a sour note taking a 5 to 3 pasting from the New York Giants at the hands of Harry Feldman and Rube Fischer.

While the Reds were held to four singles and a double, the New Yorkers pounded Elmer Riddle for 13 hits before driving him to the showers in the ninth.

In the seventh inning the Reds loaded the bases twice but succeeded in scoring only one tally—and that one was forced in when Feldman hit Eric Tipton on the wrist with a pitched ball.

Elmer Riddle was charged with his first error in his major league career in the third round when his wide throw of Feldman's attempted sacrifice pulled Eddie Miller off second base. It was the longest errorless run by a pitcher in big league history. His string of 101 games without an error far surpasses the previous big league record of 88 set by Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox from Aug. 11, 1934 to June 12, 1938.

LARRY KASABOSKI

What promises to be a slam-bang tag team match has been arranged by Promoter Les Fishbaugh for Thursday's program at the Armory arena.

Promoter Fishbaugh has signed Larry Kasaboski, the highly-favored Canadian, and Silent Pedro Gomez, game Mexican, to oppose a pair of Boston-born Italians, Joe Ferona and Fred Carone, in the two-hour tag team feature.

Kasaboski and Carone have been opponents in a series of tag team matches staged in recent weeks at the Armory. Kasaboski, teamed with scrappy Rene LaBell, twice trounced a team which included the stalky Carone.

Thursday's one hour opening match will bring together Buck Lipscomb of Indianapolis and Count Carl Von Lehman of New York City in a grudge affair. The semi-final is slated to start at 8:30 p. m.

Tickets can be purchased in advance at Markert & Lewis. —Adv.

TRIBE BACK FROM TRIP AFTER 11 TO 9 WIN OVER RED SOX

Stand 11½ Games Out of Top Spot; Keltner and Rosar Turn in Homers.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4—The Cleveland Indians headed home today after completing their longest road trip of the season — a jaunt which Manager Lou Boudreau had declared would decide Tribal pennant aspirations.

When the Redskins left the shores of Lake Erie in mid-July, the Tribesmen were eight games behind the league-leading New York Yankees and now are 11½ games off the pace after winning 11 of 20 on their journey.

They wound up their excursion with an 11 to 9 verdict over the Boston Red Sox yesterday. Jim Bagby was credited with his 11th triumph of the season but he had to have help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth when the Sox staged a six-run uprising.

The Indians staked Bagby to an 8 to 0 lead going into the seventh heat but he was slugged for 12 hits in the last three innings after holding the Sox to four scattered singles in the first six frames.

Ken Keltner and Buddy Rosar contributed heavy stick work for the Indians. Keltner celebrated the arrival of his second child, a seven-pound boy, with two homers, while Rosar also slammed a round tripper. Ray Mack collected three hits.

The club is idle until the series opener Friday with the St. Louis Browns.

Commercial League's Two Teams To Clash for Title

Coca-Cola and the Waldo Dodgers, the Commercial league's only two members this year, will cross bats for the second time this year in the "championship" game of that loop at McKinley park tomorrow night.

In the first game between the two teams, which represented 50 per cent of the Commercial season, Coca-Cola overwhelmed the Dodgers, 20 to 0. This game was played on July 1. Coke Weiss, steady and reliable Coke hurler, was on the mound and turned in one of his most impressive hurling performances of the year. Jim Ward, Waldo flinger, was shelled continuously by Coke in this game but was left in the entire seven innings by Manager Elmer Butler.

The beveragers, Commercial circuit champs last year, are expected to repeat as titlists with a victory over the "runner-up" Dodgers tomorrow night. However, last year the Commercial loop consisted of six teams and was not forced to play inter-league games with Industrial teams to round out a full schedule as this year.

Six wins and three losses is the current record of the Coke team. Waldo has won only one contest and has been defeated eight times. The lone Dodger win was marked up against Commercial Steel's Industrial league squad. Coke appears to be stronger than ever when you look at the two most recent games played by the soft-drinkers. Two weeks ago, Coca-Cola went five-up over Huber after three innings had been played only to be nosed out by the Threshers, 6 to 5. Coke surged back last week, however, to annex a 9 to 3 triumph over the Marion Engineer Depot at McKinley park.

Coxie Weis will probably be flipping them up to Waldo batters again tomorrow night. Butler's choice for starting twirler is doubtful although some think it might be Ward or Denman, the Dodgers' second regular elbower.

RED BIRDS LOSE 2 TO KANSAS CITY

Other Contests Give Brewers a Five-Game Lead.

By The Associated Press

Paradoxical as it sounds, the brilliant pitching of the last place Kansas City Blues is helping the Milwaukee Brewers run away from the rest of the American Association field.

After knocking Indianapolis from second place by winning four straight games, Kansas City last night started in on Columbus, the new runner up, and won two more games. This coupled with Milwaukee's part double defeat of Toledo enabled the Brewers to increase their league lead to five games.

The scores were Kansas City 5-1, Columbus 1-0 and Milwaukee 3-4, Toledo 2-2.

Between blackout tests at Louisville, St. Paul defeated the Colonels 11-8. Indianapolis, unable to shake off a losing streak, lost to Minneapolis, 4-3, the Indians' eighth straight setback.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Buddy Scott, 184, Tampa, knocked out Jim Bowden, 188, Jacksonville, Fla. (4).
NEW YORK—Bobby Ruffin, 135, New York, outpointed Al Gilda, 131, New York (8).
LOS ANGELES—Turkey Thompson, 205, Los Angeles, knocked out Ben Morse, 206, Philadelphia, (2).

Country Club Tourney Quarter Final Deadline Changed To Next Sunday

Members of the Marion Country club have decided to change the title of the tournament which they have been playing for the past month from the President's trophy to the Vice President's trophy.

This was done by members, as they did not like the idea of having three flights for the annual President's trophy which has always in the past been a one bracket affair.

However, there will be a President's tourney this year. Qualifying for that and the annual Country club championship is scheduled to get under way immediately and must be completed by Aug 15.

Andy K. Dewar, Country club pro, stated that the President's handicap event and the club championship would be operated simultaneously this year. First round matches in both tourneys will start about a week following the qualifying dead-line, he said.

The President's tourney will be played in one division but on a handicap basis. Every participant will be given a handicap, Dewar said.

Country club tournament officials have moved the deadline for quarter-final matches in the now Vice-President's trophy to Sunday in order to allow enough time for results of all sheduled matches to be chalked up on the club scoresheet. One second round match remains to be played.

Feature quarter-final affair in the handicap event has been the duel between Dale Rose and Herb Petrich in the first flight. Petrich, who was the tournament medalist, was forced to accept low handicap of the tourney. Rose, with that few strokes advantage at the outset, ousted Petrich 2 and 1.

Ben Peterson, third flight entrant, has been the lone linksman to advance to the final round. After he posted a 1 up second round win over J. T. Lynch, Peterson defeated John Dowler, 6 and 5, in a third round struggle. Dowler beat Major Philip Gruber in the second round.

In other quarter-final clashes in the first flight, J. B. Bray trimmed E. G. Haight, 2 and 1, R. C. Isaly beat Dr. W. A. Dennis, 3 and 4, and John Glackin bested Tom Rayburn, 4 and 3.

Semi-final pairings for the semi-finals in the first flight have been set as follows: Dale Rose vs. J. B. Bray and R. C. Isaly vs. John Glackin.

In the second flight second phase matches, Judge H. S. Young topped Bill Ulmer, 1 up in 18 holes Harry Ramer defeated Fred Sage 1 up in 18 holes. Jack Waring beat Joe Scandling 3 and 2 and Jack Kennedy edged George Wright 1 up in 18 holes.

Semi-final matches will find Judge Young trading drives with Harry Ramer and Waring playing Kennedy.

H. C. Lautenslager defeated Charles Kerrey 2 up in 18 holes, in a second round match of the third flight. Excluding the Peterson-Dowler affairs, no other quarter-final events have been played in the bottom bracket. Lt. McCrea and Frank Foster have yet to battle in their second round match.

H. C. Lautenslager will be paired with the winner of the McCrea-Foster match in the semi-final round of the third flight. The winner of that event will then meet Peterson for the third division title.

Sunday will be the deadline for quarter-final matches instead of last Sunday, as originally scheduled. Accordingly the other round deadlines have been moved back. Semi-final matches must be completed by Aug. 15 and finals by Aug. 22.

CLEVELAND TO MEET SPRINGFIELD TODAY IN LEGION TOURNEY

Lake Team Only Outfit in State Convention Without Any Defeat.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4—Cleveland, only undefeated team in the Ohio American Legion junior baseball tournament, meets Springfield in the tourney's sole contest scheduled today.

A Cleveland victory would eliminate once-defeated Springfield and would put the Lake City nine against Cincinnati's defending champions for the title Thursday.

Should Springfield win, however, it would tangle with Cincinnati, also a one-time loser, and the winner would play Cleveland for the championship.

The tourney is being conducted on a two-losses-and-out basis.

Cleveland won top position in the tournament after defeating Cincinnati, 1 to 0, yesterday. In other games, Cincinnati defeated Portsmouth 7-1 and Columbus, 11-4; Springfield eliminated Warren 6-3, and downed Zanesville, 7-2. Previously, Zanesville had knocked out Lima 9-7.

Have a "Coke"=Come, be blessed and be happy

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

... or how to break the ice in Iceland

"Come, be blessed and be happy", says the hospitable Icelander when he meets a stranger. That's a warm way of putting it, but no more friendly than the way American soldiers say it. Have a "Coke", says the Doughboy, and it works in Reykjavic as it does in Rochester. The pause that refreshes is the friendly way to say "Hi, pal" in any language. All over the globe Coca-Cola has become the gracious ice-breaker between kindly-minded strangers.

WAR SPENDING DOWN BILLION LAST MONTH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—War spending during July fell more than a billion dollars under the June figure, but approximately half of the decline, the treasury said, reflects technical bookkeeping adjustments.

The department gave no reason for the rest of the drop, although recent official statements from other government quarters have expressed dissatisfaction with production trends.

The daily treasury statement for July 31 showed income tax receipts for the first month of the new fiscal year of $1,254,934,000 and total receipts of more than $2,007,000,000.

Spending, however, was more than three and a half times that figure, aggregating $7,112,458,704. Of that amount $6,431,596,610 went for war activities, contrasted with $7,469,266,674 in June.

War bond sales for July aggregated $889,691,000, down from the $875,499,000 sold in June, but redemptions, too, were less—$138,243,000 against $141,147,000 the previous month.

AID STAMP DRIVE

UPPER SANDUSKY — Women of St. Peter's parish in Upper Sandusky are organizing an active campaign in support of the War Stamp drive now being sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women in a dual purpose effort to aid the war effort and the Council's School of Social Service. Stamps will be turned over to the council to be converted into bonds in the name of the school.

3 CRESTLINE TEACHERS QUIT

CRESTLINE — Three resignations were accepted by the board of education Monday. Mrs. Betty Chester Rickey, home economics teacher, quit and Mrs. A. T. Enoch was hired in her place. Others resigning were Mrs. Dorothy Barton, Latin and dramatics teacher, and Miss Mary Alice Foster, social science teacher. It was voted to open school Sept. 7.

Treasury Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The position of the treasury Aug. 2: Receipts $92,553,511.95; expenditures $249,969,738.41; net balance—$9,855,786,182.35; working balance included $5,623,105,432.46.

NOTICE

Whereas, The Board of County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, have received a petition signed by at least twelve (12) freeholders in Marion County, Ohio, asking that the South Alley and two dead end streets running South off Orion Street in Bellaire Gardens be vacated.

rano, both on the Mt. Etna road, as their next immediate goal.

Thousands of German and Italian troops have been by-passed in their mountain fortifications by the swiftly advancing allied columns blasting their way over the mountainous roads.

The Americans, with pride typical of all good troops, are out to beat the British to Messina. One American outfit which has had 23 days of steady, hard fighting on Sicily, was withdrawn from the line Sunday night and replaced by another outfit, veterans of the Tunisian campaign.

The new troops, marching from hill to hill, were knocking out the heaviest German defenses with motorized Long Tom 155's and scaling the steepest ridges to oust the axis troops at bayonet point. The steady advance gave the fleeing axis soldiers no time to reorganize their lines.

The appearance of fresh American troops and the rested British Seventy-Eighth Division gave the allied push that extra energy which it needed to sustain the offensive now entering its fourth day.

Many of the American troops in Sicily have been in almost constant action since they landed on the island.

GRAINS STAY WITHIN NARROW RANGE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 — Grains moved within an extremely narrow range in quiet dealings today, traders finding nothing in the news to create any strong price trends. A little commercial buying of wheat appeared at the start but soon dried up. Most grain men remained on the sidelines awaiting developments.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.44 ⅜-½, oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, September 70, and rye was up ⅜-¾, September $1.01 ¼-⅜.

Extraordinary Vatican Session Held Today

By The Associated Press

The Rome radio, in a Vatican City dispatch, reported an hour and a half meeting today of the congregational of extraordinary ecclesiastic affairs, which it pointed had charge of handling all affairs to be concluded between the Holy See and foreign governments and of examining matters submitted to it by the Pope through the papal secretary of state.

The broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, said "particular importance" was attached to the meeting, but gave no hint of subjects discussed. It said Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, presided.

STOCKS MAKE FURTHER GAINS

Volume of Trading Not Heavy But Market Said To Have Had Healthy Corrective.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—Extending the recovery of the previous session, stock market leaders today picked up additional gains of fractions to around a point with a few moving up 1 to 2 or more.

Volume was less than in recent days of active selling. Analysts suggested the market had undergone a healthy corrective in the last week's steep decline, but some thought there was danger of a secondary reaction.

Among stocks in higher territory were American Telephone, American Can, Dow Chemical, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Western Union, Texas Co. and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Holders of rail shares were somewhat anxious over the outcome of today's meeting in Washington of officers of 15 railroad unions representing non-operating employes. They were to consider a strike vote. Failure to reach a settlement might lead the federal government to take over the railways.

ARMY TELLS HOW IT SWEPT SICILIAN SKIES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The Army, casting its usual reticence to the winds, today put out a blow-by-blow description of how its air forces swept the skies clean of axis craft over Sicily, Sardinia and the Italian boot in July and summed up with these statistics:

In four weeks, U. S. planes flew 12,583 offensive sorties in the Mediterranean theaters. A sortie is a flight by one plane.

Bombers dropped 12,460 tons of explosives.

Gunners destroyed 342 enemy planes, probably destroyed 84 more.

Three axis ships were sunk and 10 damaged.

U. S. aircraft losses totaled 160.

High point was the bombing of Rome by 272 heavies and 249 medium bombers July 19. They cascaded 1,101 tons of bombs on railroad yards.

The fliers took the job is steps. Early in July they whacked into Italian air bases daily with thousands of fragmentation bombs that scatter and smash grounded craft, hangers and installations. About July 7, the heavy bombers unloaded about 3,000 tons of demolition bombs on airdromes, knocking most of them completely out. This lured the enemy's fighters into combat that cost them heavily.

The Army said Catania airdrome was visited on Independence day with 7,056 fragmentation bombs of 20 pounds each—covering every inch of the target and between 50 and 75 defending fighters were unable to do anything about it.

COAST GUARD EDITOR SEES JAP FALL NEXT YEAR

Predicts Japs Will Be Overcome Before Germans.

By The Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 4—The semi-official U. S. Coast Guard magazine celebrated the organization's 153rd birthday today by predicting Japan would fall before December, 1944, and Germany soon thereafter.

Editor Edward Lloyd, a retired Coast Guardsman whose vocation is magazine editing and whose avocation is crystal-gazing on things military, declared in his anniversary forecast that it will happen this way:

"Japan will attack Russia. American armed forces will move into Siberia in great numbers; and Japan will be bombed into submission quickly. Though the American Navy will suffer some severe losses in several gigantic sea engagements, it will completely overpower the Japanese battle fleet."

Lloyd's prediction the United States would enter the war during 1941 is a matter of record in the May issue of that year.

American Woman, 80, Is Jap Radio Propagandist

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The office of war information has announced an 80-year-old American woman, Mrs. Henry Topping, who has lived in Japan for many years, has become a Japanese radio propagandist.

For several weeks, OWI reported, Mrs. Topping has been making an English language broadcast to the United States called "The Women's Hour."

The Toppings were missionaries for many years, according to information gathered by OWI, and retired about 10 years ago to spend the rest of their lives in Japan. Dr. Topping died last August. Mrs. Topping was described as "an extreme pacifist."

Tokyo radio also is sending out propaganda broadcasts by a "Miss Frances Hopkins," described as an American woman resident in Japan for years, but government officials have been unable so far to identify her, according to OWI.

CRASH KILLS SEVEN

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, WASH., Aug. 4—Seven men were killed and 12 injured in a train wreck in central Washington at 1 a. m. today, M. A. Meyer, superintendent of transportation, reported. All the dead and injured were reported to have been military personnel.

HITS FATHER DRAFT AS POWER POLITICS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), today assailed the selective service plan for drafting pre-Pearl Harbor fathers after Oct. 1, asserting "it would seem that the only purpose is the psychological effect on Russia at the peace table, if and when she attends a peace conference."

"We should not play power politics with American lives," Wheeler said in a statement issued from Helton, Mont.

Wheeler asserted "the Army's own figures" indicated a sufficient pool for domestic and overseas service through 1944.

COMMISSION CHANCES NOT GOOD FOR DADS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Fathers now facing military conscription stand a greatly reduced chance of getting a commission.

Military officials said today the road to an Army officers' rating had not been closed, but they declared it has become considerably rockier in recent months.

Quotas for officer candidate schools have been reduced drastically, the basic training period is being extended by nearly one-third, and preference is being given to men with overseas service.

Treasury Makes Cheaters Pay, Jails Some of Them

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The treasury reported today it had rounded up an additional $56,644,954 from tax cheaters during the past year and in doing so had taken out of circulation these "chiselers against the nation's wartime revenue needs:

"A professional card sharp whose 'take' over a period of years approached six figures, a wealthy lottery czar, a racketeering tax adviser, and two purveyors of 'blue sky' mining stock."

EVASION TEACHER HELD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—The department of justice today announced arrest of a man accused of teaching New Yorkers how to evade the draft by simulating deafness, mental incompetence, and organic disorders. He was listed as Stephen Weinberg, 50, termed by the department "a notorious impersonator and deceptionist of World war days."

MANPOWER COMMITTEE WANTS TO HEAR HERSHEY

Congressmen Invite Him After Hearing Industrial Heads.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 — The house military affairs subcommittee on manpower, before which war plant executives have testified that current draft schedules promise impairment of essential production, has invited Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, to present the army's side of the case personally in hearings here.

Rep. John M. Costello (D-Calif.), subcommittee chairman, said he had asked Hershey to appear before the subcommittee Saturday, following the draft director's stated conference Friday in Sacramento on west coast manpower conditions.

Donald Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft Co., informed the subcommittee yesterday that new selective service regulations would render 57,000 Pacific Coast aircraft workers eligible for induction.

Wallace Hits Postwar Capitalism of Scarcity

DES MOINES, Aug. 4—Vice President Wallace, urging strong opposition to corporations which he said seek to return after the war to a "capitalism of scarcity," declared yesterday he was "itching to get into the fight."

"There's only one program under which agriculture, labor, and in my opinion, business as well can prosper after the war, and that's all-out production," Wallace said in a speech to the Iowa State Federation of Labor convention.

Wallace asserted the administration was on the side of labor and agriculture and would oppose large corporations which "always believed in holding down production for profit."

Bricker Tops All Candidates As Choice of Ohio Republicans

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 4 — Although [illegible] Dewey and Wendell L. Willkie are the most popular [illegible] among Republicans throughout the nation, Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio is the favorite among those of Republican voters in his home state for the 1944 GOP presidential nomination.

No other Republican comes anywhere near challenging Bricker's strength in Ohio. The governor's grip on the Buckeye state is such that his popularity there as a Republican presidential candidate is nearly twice that of Dewey and Willkie combined.

The views of Ohio Republicans were revealed by the Institute in a special survey in which each voter was asked to express his choice among seven men who have been most widely discussed as possible GOP presidential material. The question was put as follows:

"Which one of these men would you prefer as the Republican candidate for President next year?"

The vote of Ohio Republicans is:

Bricker	54%
Dewey	19
MacArthur	12
Willkie	11
Stassen	4
Saltonstall	*
Warren	*

* Less than 1 per cent.

The results indicate the difficulty which other Republican contenders for the 1944 nomination will have in invading Ohio if Governor Bricker throws a hat into the presidential ring himself.

Similar Institute surveys among Republican voters have been reported for three other large states—New York, Illinois, and Pennsylvania. They showed that Governor Dewey's popularity among New York Republicans is about equal to Governor Bricker's among Ohio Republicans.

Willkie runs relatively stronger in Pennsylvania and New York than he does in Illinois or Ohio.

Following is the New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois vote:

NEW YORK

Dewey	53%
Willkie	27
MacArthur	8
Bricker	5
Stassen	4
Saltonstall	2
Warren	1

PENNSYLVANIA

Dewey	38%
Willkie	33
MacArthur	14
Bricker	9
Stassen	5
Warren	1
Saltonstall	*

ILLINOIS

Dewey	41%
Willkie	19
MacArthur	18
Bricker	11
Stassen	10
Saltonstall	1
Warren	*

*Less than 1 per cent.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"COMING, Madam, right away!"

I told Ruth Hayes, and went over to her as she stood in the doorway of 1720. As I went, I blessed the foresight of my little mother, who had so imbued me, by drill and example, with the necessity of keeping my head in an emergency, that I was able to focus all my faculties on playing my part so that Ruth should not suspect my identity.

"Save your tears and flutters until the breath's out of the body," my mother used to say sternly. "And if you must cry sometimes, do it because of something trivial, or when there's nothing important, to be afforded by your weakness. And keep your head always. Don't get frightened."

Ruth Hayes was tapping her foot impatiently as I came up to her.

"What's the matter with you?" she demanded irritably. "You're terribly slow!"

"I'm just back from being sick, Madam," I said haltingly. "I came as fast as I could."

There was cruelty in the eyes that bored through me.

"There's always something the matter with you maids," she said coldly. "I don't know how you get away with it, I can't. But I haven't time to talk about it. Come into my room. I want to talk to you."

"I can't come now if it's going to take long, Madam," I told her. "I've got three rooms to do for my regulars before noon. I never know when they may be back."

I was improving rapidly, for I distinctly did not wish to go into the room of the "Wilderness Woman," although common sense told me that she would not do me any harm unless she should happen to discover my identity.

"Your rooms won't be delayed," she said loftily. "You can just work a little faster than your usual gait. And I won't keep you long, if you don't waste my time talking about it. Now get in here."

"Maid!" bellowed Dicky from behind the door of 1718.

"Oh, you'll have to wait a minute, Madam," I said flutteringly. "That's the poor sick man in 1718, next to you. He's leaving his door ajar so he can call me without having to leave his chair. He probably won't want anything much. I'll be right back."

"Here! Come back here!" she ordered, but I hurried into 1718, and received a raucous query and command from Dicky.

"Who's that making that row in the hall?" he demanded. "And shut that door now that you've heard me and are in here."

Ruth Won't Follow

I obeyed, knowing that Ruth Hayes would not wish to attract attention to herself by following me and disputing his right to attendance. The next second I was close to him, telling him of my conversation with the telephone girl. He nodded attentively, but stopped me when I began to tell of the "Wilderness Woman's" commands.

"I heard every word of that," he said. "Now, there are two possible reasons for her wanting you in her room. Number one, she wants to question you about that troublesome female, Mrs. Graham, whom she will describe to you. Number two, she has recognized you."

"I don't think there's a chance in a million of the last," I assured him. "I watched her very closely from beneath my eyelashes—"

"That's one of your best tricks!" my husband commented teasingly, and beneath Halleran's clever make-up I flushed, as I finished my sentence:

"And I'm sure she hasn't a suspicion that I'm anything but a slow, rather stupid maid."

Madge Must Go

"Let's hope she keeps on thinking so," my husband said devoutly, and I silently echoed his prayer. "Well I suppose there's nothing for it but for you to go over there. But remember I'm keeping my door ajar, and I want you to edge over to the wall adjoining this, so that you can kick it with your heel or anything handy if she starts anything. By the way, have you got your little pistol with you?"

"Safe in my pocket," I answered.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Rationing Aids Health

In spite of what would appear to be every possible obstacle to health improvement, the health statistics from England during the last year have been remarkable. The statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company are inclined to think this is to be ascribed, in part at least, to food rationing. Last year England's death rate was 11.6 per 1,000 persons. Only once before, in 1930, has England's death rate fallen as low.

That rationing had something to do with it is indicated in the figures on diabetes, there being a 10 per cent decline in the death rate from that disease in England. We know that diabetics are inclined to eat too much. That is now impossible, for in England I am told categorically it is impossible to eat too much.

It is probable that the diabetic's enforced abstinence does not have a favorable effect so much directly on the diabetes, but on the chronic heart weakness, the blood pressure and kidney disability which afflicts the diabetic and has an unfavorable effect on the course of the disease. I am, of course, now referring to the middle age diabetic which constitutes the largest class. With a moderate use of insulin he manages to get along all right so far as the diabetes is concerned: his dietary difficulties are not pressing.

In fact, before rationing he was managing to get along a little too well. The average diabetic was not following the rule to keep underweight. We know that his difficulty lies in restraining himself so that his blood pressure and arteries, which are the real source of his trouble, are kept in good control. It is not so much a question of what kind of food as of how much per day the diabetic eats which makes for the benefit.

So in England it is found economical to give the diabetic extra portions of meat, bacon and eggs and allow him in exchange to surrender his allowance of sugar, bread, etc., for the benefit of growing children or the non-diabetic.

In the meantime rationing had come in and it looked pretty old-fashioned because of the high amounts of butter and cream. But all that is needed is simply for the ration board to grant the person on a ketogenic diet a few extra cards and he is all fixed up.

The health record of English infants and children has been very good during the war years. Children and the expectant mothers have the first call on the limited supplies of milk, eggs, and meat in the quantities they need. There has been some squawking about food rationing in this country, but as I look around I see very little of it that is legitimate.

Everyone whom I see is getting enough to eat and while there may be a black market that is dangerous here and there, they must, so far as my limited observations are concerned, be kept pretty well under control.

GREEN CAMP BANS SUNDAY BEER SALES

New Hours Set: Week-Day Closing at 11 P. M.

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, Aug. 4 — Sale of beer in Green Camp on Sunday is a thing of the past. Council Monday set closing time at 11 p. m. to 6 a. m. week days and between the hours of 11 p. m. Saturday and 6 a. m. the following Monday. The change is effective immediately. The ordinance provides that persons found guilty of violation shall be fined $100 to $500.

The street and alley committee was authorized to employ some one to cut weeds on streets and in the alleys for a sum not exceeding $40.

Mayor George W. Sorrells presented to council the report of State Examiner T. G. McNamara who audited the books for the period Jan. 1, 1941 to Feb. 28, 1943. It listed several findings involving small amounts.

Marion County's 93rd Annual Fair Greatly Expanded, Program Changed; $15,000 To Be Awarded in Purses and Premiums

A greatly expanded Marion county fair beginning on Sunday and running through the following Friday, will greet Marion county farmers at the ninety-third annual exposition Aug 29-Sept 3.

The schedule of events has been considerably rearranged from those followed in past years and officials hope that the revision will accomplish its purpose of making the feature attractions appear on the program at hours most convenient to prospective fair visitors.

To Start Sunday

The curtain will go up on the fair Sunday noon Aug. 29 Fair officials hope to become advantageously situated for the afternoon but these will have to depend largely upon the grounds which are expected free with the admissions Stops will be ordered for a short time during the afternoon in the events with the best interest to the evening horse show scheduled for Sunday night

Monday and Tuesday activities probably will see most exhibits put in place and by Tuesday there will be horse show programs

Wednesday the fair program will get into full swing with an afternoon grandstand show booked for 2 30 p m and harness races starting Wednesday night under the lights.

Thursday and Friday afternoons there will be circus acts for the 2:30 grandstand shows and harness racing will be held both of those nights The fair will close Friday night.

The 1943 fair adds up to one of the biggest events ever planned by the fair board Premiums totaling $15,000 are offered including $1,500 in horse show awards, $2,000 in race purses, about $1,300 for junior fair awards and the remainder in exhibit prizes.

Night Races To Be Innovation at Marion Co. Fair This Year

Programs Under Lights To Be Held Sept. 1, 2 and 3; Many Top-Flight Horses Expected.

For the first time in the more than 50 years in which harness racing has been one of the key attractions in the annual county fair programs, night racing will be held Heretofore the racing program has been the feature of another type of program, usually the afternoon fair sessions while an outstanding circus act, has highlighted the night fair

This is the one distinctive difference between this year's fair and any previous one in recent years

Whole stable full have been eliminated from the program and despite the fact that the total amount of money to be offered to be somewhat smaller than previous years it has been said by officials to be 50 per cent in comparison with other years fair officials are expecting one of the greatest racing programs in fair history

Ohio Racing Hub

This belief rests on the fact that Ohio this year is the hub of harness racing since the sport has been closed down in the east as the result of stringent regulations governing civilian transportation

Frank M Foster, who is a member of the committee in charge of the second annual Marion county horseshow to be held in conjunction with the fair is well as the speed committee, said many of the drivers, trainers and owners who took part in Marions Little Grand Circuit harness meet during June are planning to return here for the three day program In addition to these Little Grand Circuit representatives in a number of horsemen, whose exact identity is not known at present are expected to bring their favorites and pacers to the half-mile fairground oval Co-chairman with M Foster on the speed committee is L. L. Kline

As usual state-supervised parimutuel betting windows will operate with George Reverman of Columbus in charge Harvey H. Hartman of Quakertown Pa who has served as starting judge at the last four fair meetings, will again return

To Use Photo Equipment

Outstanding innovation will be the Eye-in-the-Sky photo finish camera, which made its Marion debut at the Little Grand Circuit program, late in the spring Mr Foster recently signed a contract with Aaron Harvey, half owner of the photo finish service, for service at the Marion meeting The farm will have 14 high powered cameras in operation at harness and running tracks throughout the country at the height of the race season this summer Mr Harvey invented the first photo finish camera

As speed secretary, Mr Foster recently announced the program for the three-day meeting Highlight of the entire program is the free-for-all purse, an event featuring the Thursday night card Many of the nations foremost free-for-all pacers will compete in this event for a $400 purse Other leading events include the 14 class trot, also on Thursday night, the 18 class trot on the opening night and the 14 class pace on the final program

The complete program is as follows:

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1

24 class trot	$300
24 class pace	$300
18 class trot	$300

THURSDAY, SEPT 2

Free-for-all pace	$400
14 class trot	$300
17 class pace	$300

FRIDAY, SEPT 3

14 class pace	$300
20 class pace	$300
20 class trot	$300

In view of the fact the 1943 fair will be staged on the dates ordinarily taken by the Ohio State fair, which has been suspended for the duration, it is expected to draw larger crowds than in the years when the county fair was held late in September Coming before the opening of school, the fair will give junior fair participants additional time to spend in preparing their exhibits.

The junior fair, which has been growing steadily in size and as a center of interest, is expected to take another forward step this year, officials said This phase of the fair embraces activities of the 4-H clubs, vocational agriculture and home economics students in rural schools and the juvenile granges The boys and girls have their own junior fair board and virtually stage a fair within a fair in the buildings assigned for their use.

Workers are getting the grounds in shape now for the fair program and report they are in as good condition as at any time in recent years

Price Schedule

In making changes in the usual program, officials even revamped the schedule of prices, eliminating the automobile admission charge made in past years and setting the new price for tickets at 40 cents a person, with children under 12 admitted free. Grandstand prices will be 40 cents for the afternoon shows and 50 cents at night for either the horse show or the night races.

A good lineup of concessions has already been signed by fair officials, assuring the usual lineup of merry-go-round, ferris wheel, other mechanical rides, games, shows, food and other refreshments

The fair organization is headed this year by W M Rhoads of Grand township as president, L B Williams of Salt Rock township as vice president, Paul D Michel of Prospect township, secretary and L B Williams of Salt Rock township, treasurer.

Revision Made In Admission Prices

Fair admisison prices, adjusted at various times in past years to meet changing conditions, have undergone another revision this year

The price will be 40 cents a person for admission to the grounds with no charge for admitting automobiles. This schedule replaces a former system of admissions that involved a fee for every automobile entering the grounds, plus an admission charge for each person.

As in the past, children under 12 will be admitted free.

Grandstand admission prices will be 40 cents in the afternoons when show troupes are performing and 50 cents at night for the harness races

Entries open to counties that are open to us

Do not make entries in championship classes

After conference with representatives of all Sheep breed associations of Ohio, relative to quarantine of flocks infected with Symbiotic Mange (barn itch), the following regulation was adopted as applicable to County and Independent Fairs

Regulation

"All entries from flocks known to have been affected with or exposed to any contagious or infectious disease within the past year shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a regularly employed state or federal veterinarian.

"The management further reserves the right to take any additional measures prior to assigning entries to pens or during the Fair that may be deemed necessary to protect the health of sheep shown at the Fair."

The judges shall take into consideration the time and manner of shearing.

In all sheep classes an Exhibitor's flock shall consist of one ram 1 year old and over, one ewe, 2 years old and over, ewe, 1 year old and under 2, and 1 ewe under 1 year old

A Breeder's Young Flock shall consist of one yearling ram, two yearling ewes and two ewe lambs, owned and bred by the exhibitor.

A pen shall consist of four lambs bred by exhibitor, weaned within the year shown.

A pen of two yearling rams and two yearling ewes must be the get of one sire, bred and owned by the exhibitor

Aged rams and ewes must be two years old or over, yearlings, one year old and under two, and lambs under one year old.
